

3/12/2008

Regarding, Scott Koon's JavaScript talk at our March 12th CRDS-RTOI brownbag, here are some links Scott sent me. My thanks to Scott for his efforts and to Paul Litwin for hosting these notes.

If anyone would like to be included on our list, please drop me a line at sehunt@fhcrc.org.

Thanks,
Sperry Hunt

JAVASCRIPT LIBRARIES:

Yahoo User Interface

<http://developer.yahoo.com/yui/>

jQuery - a way to write fluid code using JavaScript

<http://jquery.com>

ExtJS - Includes a lot of useful widgets and skins, integrates with most popular JS libraries

<http://extjs.com>

Prototype - a very basic library you can use as the foundation of your own library

<http://www.prototypejs.org>

Script.aculo.us - An animation and effects library based on Prototype

<http://script.aculo.us>

THE JAVASCRIPT LANGUAGE AND BROWSERS:

Quirksmode site - detailed benchmarks and workarounds for DOM and CSS

<http://www.quirksmode.org/>

Yahoo JS development center - useful links and tutorials.

<http://developer.yahoo.com/javascript>

Douglas Crockford - Architect of YUI and discovered JSON. Lots of useful articles describing inheritance and encapsulation in JS.

<http://www.crockford.com>